

AfD vote share vs. unemployment share — same votes, two spatial resolutions

Same underlying data at every point; only the spatial aggregation differs.

Neither panel is the 'correct' scale — this is the Modifiable Areal Unit Problem, not a change in the votes ($\Delta r = +0.760$). At $n = 10$, treat the right-hand r with caution.